(near Denny's restaurant)

English Country Dancing is the predecessor of American square and contra dances. This lovely social dance form, is done with partners in different set formations, such as lines, circles and squares.

These elegant dances date from 1600 to the present day - come and learn the dances which George Washington & Jane Austen enjoyed!

Beginners are welcome and partners are not necessary, since our tradition is to change partners for each dance. No special clothing is needed, just low heeled or flat shoes that won't slip on a wood floor, and women usually prefer to wear skirts or dresses. Photos on website!

Beginners' session starts promptly at 6pm.

It's very easy to learn...

...what fancy footwork!
